Nursing Mothers and Over-burdened Women

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken down by over-work, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant flow of milk for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless aid in preparing the system for baby's coming and rendering the ordeal comparatively painless. It cures no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress, low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, growing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary spots or floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal discharges, ante-menstrual or retro-menstrual distress, or any of the many ailments of women, will find in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the most potent, invigorating restorative strength ever devised for their special benefit.

This world-famous specific for women's weaknesses and nervous ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients printed in plain English on its bottle wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the fullest investigation of his formula knowing that it will be found to contain only the best agents known to the most advanced medical science of all the different schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

You can't afford to accept as a substitute for this remedy of known composition a secret nostrum of unknown composition. Don't do it.

MONORAIL TESTED.

The first exhibition in this country of a gyrostatic monorail car, which has been heralded abroad as the solution of the Monorail problem and ranked among the wonders of the present century, was given yesterday in a Brooklyn park by Richard Scherl, the young inventor, who is a son of the owner of one of Germany's greatest newspapers. Many of America's best-known railroad engineers and financiers were invited to this initial exhibition. The car was brought from Berlin, with a dozen expert mechanics and with the young inventor in charge. A single rail track had been laid on the floor of the rink in a circle, with about 13 laps to a mile. On exhibition the car, which seats four passengers and two operators and which is intended solely for demonstration purposes worked perfectly.

Under the car are two gyroscopes, each revolving in a vacuum at the rate of 8,000 revolutions a minute, one operating on a perpendicular and the other on a horizontal axis. These gyroscopes, operated by an electric current of 110 volts picked up by "shoes" from wires laid on either side of the monorail, so balanced the car, either standing or while running, that all tendency to incline, rock or pitch was counteracted. The gyroscopes balanced the car in the direction opposite to that resulting from centrifugal force and gravity, and in taking the curves it keeled over nicely and gracefully to a degree commensurate with the speed of the car.

The perpendicular gyroscope balances the car when its load is not evenly distributed. A half dozen of the mechanics piled on one side of the car and the gyroscopes keeled the car over in the opposite direction, thus maintaining a balance. The car exhibited yesterday weighed two and a half tons and the weight of the gyroscopes was 51 per cent. of that. Mr. Scherl believes that a speed of at least 120 miles an hour can be reached and maintained by a gyrostatic monorail train of regulation size.

FUGITIVES LOCATED.

Living as father and daughter, Roberta Bulet de Janon, 17 years old, a Philadelphia heiress, and Frederick Cohen, a former waiter at the Bellevue Stratford Hotel, who eloped December 29, from Philadelphia, were found in Chicago and arrested late yesterday. They were discovered by detectives in a rooming house on the north side of the city. Cohen at first protested against arrest. He soon admitted his identity, however, and Miss De Janon, sobbing bitterly, pleaded with the police to restore her to her parents.

Cohen revealed to the officers the story of his flight with the girl from Philadelphia, a flight extending for thousands of miles through the United States and Canada, and in which a trip to England was interrupted at Halifax because the boat officers would not permit the presence of Miss De Janon's pet dog on the vessel.

Cohen and Miss De Janon reached Chicago on Thursday and rented a room in a boarding house owned by Mrs. Frank Perlin. Cohen introduced the girl as his daughter, Alice. He identified himself as Robert King, and said he was a barber just arrived from Montreal in search of work.

The girl when questioned by the officers at the police station, after she had admitted her identity, said that she and Cohen had reached Chicago with $1.60 and that she gave Cohen a bracelet and a necklace, which he pawned to procure money to live on.

Cohen vehemently denied that any harm had come to Miss De Janon since she fled with him from her home.

DINNER $100 A PLATE.

Carnegie Steel Company officials to the number of one hundred sat down to a dinner at the Fort Pitt Hotel, in Pittsburgh, Saturday night, which for lavishness has seldom or never been equalled in that city. The cost amounted to more than $100 a plate. The dinner was arranged by Colonel H. P. Bope, vice-president of the Carnegie Steel Company.

President W. E. Corey of the United States Steel Corporation was the chief guest. The dining room was arranged in the shape of a Grecian garden, and the floral display was gorgeous.

President Corey, in his talk to the Carnegie men, complimented them on the excellent showing made by the Pittsburghers for the Steel Corporation.

SWIFT VENGEANCE.

Dominick Allio, prominent among the Italian colony in Dayton, Ohio, was shot dead Sunday night in a quarrel.

Swift vengeance for the deed was wreaked upon Tommaso Villella, the slayer, whose body, stabbed through, was found a little while later behind Allio's house.

Allio's wife, whose hand was badly cut, told the police that Villella came to their house and after picking a quarrel with her husband, shot him. As to the identity of the person who killed Villella she professed ignorance.

Mrs. Lena Gresham, of Clinton, Miss., Has a Few Facts to Tell Our Readers About Cardui.

Clinton, Miss.—"Thanks to Cardui," writes Mrs. Lena Gresham, of this place, "I have been greatly relieved."

"I suffered for three years from female inflammation, and had taken medicine from four different physicians without much benefit."

"I have received more benefit from seven bottles of Cardui, than from all the physicians."

Just try Cardui. That's all we ask. It speaks for itself. It has helped so many thousands, it must be able to help you.

Trying Cardui won't hurt you. It is safe, harmless, gentle in action, and purely vegetable.

If you are weak, tired, down and out, try Cardui.

If you are sick, miserable, and suffer from womanly pains, like headache, backache, dragging feelings; pains in side, arms, legs, etc.—try Cardui.

It is the medicine for all women. It is the tonic for you.

CHARGED WITH POISONING.

Effie Sellaberry, supposed to be on a train nearing New Orleans, is sought by the police as a witness in the mysterious death of W. H. Helman, a jeweler, who was found unconscious in a room at a hotel in Terre Haute, Ind., yesterday, and died soon afterward, evidently from the effects of poison. Telegrams have been sent to the police of Memphis and New Orleans asking them to detain the woman.

Helman returned to Terre Haute Sunday night from Chicago. At the hotel he sent to the bar for whiskey. A chambermaid found him lying on the floor in his room yesterday. He did not regain consciousness before he died, but the coroner found in the room two letters. One was addressed to the chief of police and the other to a friend of Helman's. In both he accused Effie Sellaberry of having administered poison to him in coffee that he drank in a restaurant in Chicago Sunday. The woman is a step-daughter of Helman. He was divorced from her mother, who lived in North Dakota.

A rare bargain and one that is lasting can be obtained at the shoe store of John A. Marshall & Bros., 422 King Street. Look at the window display.

FINE PICTURES.

An unusual offer is being made to its readers by The Philadelphia North American in next Sunday's paper. Through the medium of a coupon the paper will give to art lovers the opportunity to secure a real photograph of Lute Filides' celebrated painting, "The Doctor." Photographs have heretofore sold at high prices and have been luxuries available only to those of means. Through special arrangement with those who control the process by which these artistic works may be printed in large quantities, The North American will furnish copies of "The Doctor," on fine art paper, 22x28 inches in size, for 10 cents in cash and a coupon cut from the paper for Sunday, January 30. A copy of the picture has already been received at this office. It is indeed a work of the highest artistic merit.
